REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The Superintending School Committee respectfully presents the following report:

The schools of the town, twenty-eight in all, have been under the care and instruction of twenty-five different teachers, six males, and nineteen females.

The amount of school money raised for school purposes by town tax is $1100.42. Amount of Literary Fund is $84.20.

Whole number of scholars attending school during the year is 634. Average attendance, 495.

Whole length of summer schools, 204 weeks. The whole length of winter schools, 58 weeks. Average length of schools, nine and five fourteenths weeks.

Whole number of scholars attending to each of the following studies: Reading, 596; Spelling, 584; Algebra, 7; Penmanship, 230; Arithmetic, 384; Grammar, 117; History, 5; Geography, 173; Composition, 12; Philosophy, 3; Chemistry, 1; Astronomy, 1; Geometry, 1.

Schools commencing after Nov. 1st are called winter schools.

The following is a brief statement concerning the schools considered separately:

DISTRICT No. 1.

Prudential Committee—Joseph Brown. Summer school of eight weeks taught by Miss Mary E. Kelley. Whole number of scholars, thirty-four; average attendance, twenty-six and three tenths. Wages of teacher, $18.

This was Miss Kelley's first school, and when we consider it was in her own district, we are led to suppose that she had a very pleasant and profitable school. The teacher says, in her report, "I gave out short lessons and labored hard to get up an interest in the scholars. I think improvement has been made." This is one of the hardest schools in town. School order, $73.44.

The winter school was taught by Rev. J. G. Munsey. Length of school, five and one half weeks. Whole number of scholars, 41; average attendance, thirty-five and three sevenths. Wages of teacher, including board, $25.

Comment upon this school is unnecessary. In this instance we had "the right teacher in the right place." The school was a success.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Committee—Charles G. Sanborn. First term of six weeks taught by Miss Etta M. Edgerly. Whole number of scholars, twenty-two; average attendance, nineteen. Wages, $19. School order, $72.46. Miss Edgerly is a teacher of large experience, and always has a good school. Improvement good as the best. Second term taught by George W. Adams, jr. Whole number of scholars, twenty-five; average attendance, twenty. Wages, $20. Length of school, eight weeks. "This, to me, was a very pleasant school. I feel that I had the confidence of the entire district, with one exception. One man, in the interest of the devil, with more cheek than brains, rose up and said, I guess I'll run this institution, and began to assume such huge proportions that the boys, fearing he might burst, had him arrested and taken before Mr. Justice Goodwin, who caused him to be hooped to the tune of five dollars and costs, with the understanding if there was any further danger, he should be hooped again about March 7th." A portion of the school made marked progress. A class of young ladies, in this school, may be classed among the best readers in town.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Committee—George W. Dow. Summer term of nine weeks taught by Miss Abbie E. Cross, of Auburn. Whole number of scholars, ten; average attendance, eight and one fifteenth. Wages of teacher, $8.67. School order, $61.98. Miss Cross has had some experience in teaching, and will, I think, make a fine teacher. The improvement, on the part of those who tried, was good. Winter term of seven weeks taught by Mr. Charles D. Weare. Whole number of scholars, 20; average attendance, 18. Wages of teacher, $27. Mr. Weare is a quiet and thorough teacher, who explains to his classes every principle gone over. The improvement in the various studies was all I could reasonably expect, considering the length of the school.

DISTRICT No. 4.

Committee—Charles W. Hill. One term of thirteen weeks, taught by Benjamin W. Chapman. Whole number of scholars, eighteen; average attendance, 15. Wages of teacher, $16. School order, $52.95. This is the second term Mr. Chapman has taught in this district, which is evidence that his services are appreciated by those interested. The school was fair in all particulars. The teacher says, in his report, "I desire to see a law passed by our Legislature, at no distant day, prohibiting a change of text books in our schools oftener than once in fifteen years.

DISTRICT No. 5.

Committee—John S. Page. Albert L. Marden, of Chichester, taught this school. One term, only, of fifteen weeks. Whole number of scholars, twenty-four; average attendance, twenty and seven eightths. Wages of teacher, $20. Board and wood were given by the district, which lengthened the school considerably. I understand this to be the third term Mr. Marden has taught in this district. Owing to circumstances beyond the control of the teacher, quite a large portion of the school was absent on the day of examination. Improvement good, especially in Arithmetic. School order, $75.50.

DISTRICT No. 6.

Committee—Dana Marsh. One term of fourteen weeks, taught by Martha E. Price, and Mary P. Price; eight weeks by the former, and six weeks by the latter. Whole number of scholars, twelve; average attendance, ten. Wages, $20. School order, $65.14. The scholars in this district gave evidence of having paid good attention to their studies. The teachers having had a large experience in teaching, we expected much from them, and in this we were not disappointed. We congratulate the district in their being able to obtain the services of such valuable teachers. The school house is hardly an apology for a house. I hope soon to see a new and beautiful house take the place of this. Why punish your children by compelling them to spend a portion of their time in this cold and uncomfortable place?

DISTRICT No. 7.

Committee—Asa F. Paige. One term of twelve weeks, taught by Miss Clara E. Paige. Whole number of scholars, fourteen; average attendance, ten and one half. Wages, $10. (Board given.) School order, $27.46. Miss Paige was very successful in this school. Quite a large number of the parents and friends of the scholars were present at the examination. The scholars gave evidence of having been thoroughly drilled, and an occasional "be careful how you talk" by the teacher put them on their guard, and they acquitted themselves in a very satisfactory manner. We think Miss Paige destined to become a very able teacher.

DISTRICT No. 8.

Committee—William H. Weeks. One term of ten and two fifths weeks taught by Mrs. Olive A. Weeks. Whole number of scholars, fourteen; average attendance, eleven. Wages of teacher, $18. School order, $46.22. This is one of the smallest schools in town, and composed mostly of small scholars. The teacher says: "They were ready at all times to perform all the duties of the school room with cheerfulness. There have been no acts of willful disobedience, and it is the result of a uniform and regular course on my part in not requiring any thing unreasonable of my scholars, and at the same time insisting upon prompt obedience to all direct commands." The improvement was quite good. Some of the scholars advanced rapidly. Lorrain E. Weeks, eleven years old, made excellent progress in Arithmetic.

DISTRICT No. 9.

Committee—Thomas B. Burnes. The summer term of eleven weeks was taught by Miss Clara Peaslee. Whole number of scholars, forty-six; average, thirty-four and one half. Wages, $24. School order, $155.52. This is the third term Miss Peaslee has taught in this district. The teacher says, in report: "The scholars in this district are in the habit of staying away from school one or two days in a week, thereby losing, in part, their interest in their studies." This was a good school. The closing exercises were highly interesting. Three of the scholars were not absent one half day; viz., Novella E. James, Ida B. Locke and Jennie M. Locke. Miss Peaslee is a favorite teacher in this district. Winter term taught by Miss Arabella Z. Moody. Length of school twelve weeks. Whole number scholars, forty-two; average, twenty-six and one half. Wages of teacher, $24. Miss Moody commenced this school under adverse circumstances, as it was very evident that a majority of the district were in favor of another teacher. Some improvement has been made, and if the teacher had had the support of the district, she would have had more interest in her scholars, and the school would have been much more profitable. The teacher says, in her report, "There is a lack of interest on the part of the parents in this district. I have tried hard to have a prosperous school." A teacher ought not to feel herself above her pupils. Our most successful teachers are those who are the most familiar with their scholars, outside of the school room.

DISTRICT No. 10.

Committee—Chauncey Gay. Miss Hattie S. Tappan taught the school in this district. One term of eleven weeks. Whole number of scholars, 14; average attendance,  $12\frac{1}{2}$ . Wages of teachers, \$16. School order, \$43.01. This was one of the best appearing schools in town. The closing exercises were very satisfactory, and were witnessed by a number of the friends of the teacher, and others of the district. The teacher appeared to be at home in her school, and to have won the regard of her pupils. A good, quiet, and profitable school. The house is a disgrace to the district. I hope to see a modern built house take the place of this, at no distant day.

DISTRICT No. 11.

Committee—Asa T. Page. Teacher, Miss Etta M. Edgerly. There was but one term, of  $14\frac{1}{2}$  weeks, in this district, during the year. Whole number of scholars, 13; average attendance, 10. Wages, \$12, exclusive of board. School order, \$49.12. This is the most advanced school in town, and, if we judge by the number of visitors present at the examination, the school is bound to maintain its pre-eminence over the other schools in town. Miss Edgerly deservedly stands in the front rank as a teacher. Possessing, as she does, good executive ability, she governs with firmness, yet with kindness. The school made rapid improvement in all the branches taught. My thanks are due to the district for the uniform kindness shown me.

DISTRICT No. 12.

Committee—Joseph B. Durrell. Miss Martha C. Durrell taught the first term of ten weeks. Whole number of scholars, 8; average attendance,  $5\frac{1}{2}$ . Wages, \$12. I was very much pleased with the appearance of this school at its close. Singing was a very pleasant and, no doubt, profitable feature in this school. It is the smallest school in town. Improvement, good. Order, the same. Some statements in her Register, I think, are not truthful. School order, \$75.56. Second term of twelve weeks taught by Mrs. Mary A. Lougee. Whole number of scholars, 6; average attendance, 5. Wages of teacher, \$14.

Mrs. Lougee is a good and quiet teacher. Advancement as good as could be expected in a school composed of such small scholars.

DISTRICT No. 13.

Committee—N. B. McMurphy. The summer and winter terms taught by Miss Laura E. Shepard, of Concord. Whole number of scholars, first term, 23; average, 21. Wages, $16. Second term, whole number of scholars, 29; average, 27. Wages, $16. Length of each term, six weeks. School order, $51.12. This school has made very rapid and thorough progress. When Miss Shepard commenced this school it was in a very backward state, but under the excellent instruction, which she gave, the advancement was second to no district in town. I consider it the best appearing school I have visited during the year. Fortunate is the district that secures the services of such an able teacher.

DISTRICT No. 14.

Committee—Charles H. Maxfield. First term, of five and one fifth weeks, taught by Miss Nellie P. Mudgett. Whole number of scholars, 9; average attendance, 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ . Wages, \$6.67. School order, \$36.83. Miss Mudgett fully sustained her former reputation as a teacher. A profitable school. The number of visitors present at the close is good evidence that her services were appreciated. Second term of seven weeks taught by Miss Lena A. Sargent, of Pittsfield. Whole number of scholars, 16; average attendance, 12. Wages, \$13. This is a young teacher, yet she has the qualifications for a first class instructor, being prompt, energetic, faithful, and an excellent disciplinarian. This was a good school.

DISTRICT No. 15.

Committee — John Adams. One term of eleven weeks, taught by Miss Etta M. Edgerly. Whole number of scholars, 23; average attendance, 18. Wages, $19. School order, $44.70. Miss Edgerly enjoyed the full confidence of the district, and to say that the school was a success, in every particular, is due the teacher for her noble endeavors in the interest of her pupils. An exhibition in the evening was very fully attended by the parents and friends of both teacher and scholars, and was very interesting. Wise is the district that secures her services.

DISTRICT No. 16.

Committee—Nathan Batchelder. First term of eight weeks taught by Miss Cynthia Varney. Whole number of scholars, 15; average, 12. Wages of teacher, \$12 (board given). This teacher has rare literary qualifications, and if she had more executive ability, would, I think, make a fine teacher. The lack of order was a bad feature in her school. Some improvement was made. Second term of ten weeks taught by Miss Lottie E. Payne, of Loudon. Whole number of scholars, 16; average, 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ . Wages, \$14 (board given). Miss Payne has kept a good school. She is one of our young teachers, who promise much in the future. School order, \$63.82.

DISTRICT No. 17.

Committee—Nehemiah Pulsifer. There were two terms in this district, taught by Miss M. Anna James, of Gilford. First term of eight weeks. Whole number of scholars, 15; average, 13. Wages, $18. Second term, eight weeks. Whole number of scholars, 11; average, 10. Wages, $18. School order, $49.10. Miss James discharged her duties in the school room in a way creditable to herself, and, I think, with satisfaction to the district. She had the confidence of her pupils and the coöperation of their parents. The order was good, and improvement marked.

DISTRICT No. 18.

Committee—James A. Hurd, George H. Shannon, Daniel Connell. Summer term, eight weeks, taught by Miss Nellie S. Daniels, of Great Falls. Whole number of scholars, 52; average attendance, 38. Wages of teacher, $24. School order, $140.69. Miss Daniels is a teacher of large experience. I visited her school twice. Good order, good attention, and good progress were marked features in this school. The visitors present at its close will sustain us in this assertion. Here are some of the finest scholars in town. A class of young ladies made a very fine appearance. Winter term of seven and three fifths weeks taught by Mr. A. W. Shackford, of Barnstead. Whole number of scholars, 55; average attendance, 35. Wages, $43. This is the third term Mr. Shackford has taught in this district. As an instructor, this teacher most certainly excels. This is the largest school in town, composed of scholars of all ages, and it is impossible for one teacher to do justice to all. I suggest that the district repair their house, or build new, and then grade their school. In so doing, each scholar will receive much more benefit than they possibly can under the old system of mixed schools. Mr. Shackford was not "out of chalk," at the examination; consequently, he made considerable use of the blackboard. The closing exercises were very satisfactory.

GENERAL REMARKS.

As Superintending School Committee of this town, during the last political year, it has been my endeavor, to the best of my ability, to attend to the duties of the office. My best efforts have been used in urging the different schools in town to take a higher, a nobler, and a more advanced position. I have tried to instill into the minds of the scholars the great importance of a good and thorough education. That our schools have been as successful, and have made as good progress, as during any preceding year, is beyond doubt or cavil. Many of our schools have made the most marked progress, while no school can be said to have been a total failure. In some instances the teachers were not all that could be desired, yet as a whole, I think they will compare favorably with any teachers in adjacent towns. Most of our schools are small, and I believe it would be for the interest of the town to consolidate some of the districts. It is a well known fact that our school districts, in a large part, were created many years ago, and framed to suit the then wants of our school-going population. With the great change which the last generation has witnessed in the number and character of our common school scholars in our rural towns, has arisen a necessity for the remodeling of our school districts so as to accommodate them to the present necessities of our people, and when this is done, new school-houses should be erected, or old ones centralized and repaired. We need less districts and school-houses in number, but we need larger districts and better houses.

To teachers: Believing that success in teaching is almost as much dependent upon the methods of imparting instruction as upon the character and classification of the material furnished by the text-book, we most earnestly ask your attention to the following suggestions: Commence in accordance with the maxim, "Not how much, but how well." Permit no child to read in an improper manner. Do nothing without attention. Require the class to repeat the most important principles, definitions, and examples, both separately, and in concert. Review the lessons, and do not commence Part Second until the pupil understands Part First. I would call your attention to the following: The Superintending Committee is expected to grant no certificate except for suitable qualifications. But, when the teacher makes no application for one (which has been the case in a majority of instances), is it reasonable to expect this? Chapter eighty-first, section six, of the General Statutes, reads as follows: "No person shall be employed or paid for services as a teacher, unless he shall produce, and deliver to the prudential committee, a certificate of the school committee of the town in which the district where the school is to be kept, or is deemed to be, that he is well qualified to instruct youth in the branches to be taught in such school." I hope prudential committees will employ none but the best of teachers, if they are to be procured.

There are some very good school-houses in town. I will class them as follows: Nice houses, seven; nine poorly answer the purposes for which they were intended, while two are a disgrace to those who tolerate them. I have found in the schools, to the serious injury of them, quite a variety of text-books. Those more generally used are, Hillard's series of Readers, Greenleaf's series of Arithmetics, Cornell's Geographies, Quackenbush's Grammar, History and Philosophy. These I would recommend for general use for the present. If they are not the best, they are good books, and ought to be made uniform in all the districts in town. In so doing we get rid of an endless variety of text-books.

In conclusion, I would return my sincere thanks for the kind manner in which I have every where been received by teachers, scholars, and friends generally. That I may receive the charity of all, is my desire.
